

Become a Research Volunteer

The Society of Actuaries (SOA) develops and funds research for a wide array of audiences, from actuaries and the insurance industry to employers and the general public.

Join a group of world-class actuaries—made up of both SOA staff and volunteers—and gain exposure within the actuarial profession.

The benefits of volunteering:

Contribute to the advancement of the actuarial profession

Network with a diverse group of actuaries

Gain visibility within the profession

Develop leadership, collaboration and communication skills

Get valuable, hands-on professional experience

Learn more at SOA.org/ResearchVolunteer or via email at research@SOA.org.